

MAYSVILLE LEDGER

FIFTH YEAR.

MAYSVILLE, KY., MONDAY, JANUARY 27, 1896.

ONE CENT.

Purely Business!

The columns of a newspaper represent a cash value. No publisher can afford to give advertising "notions" free any more than a merchant can toss over his counter free gifts of dry goods or shoes. A newspaper is a legitimate business concern. Its columns are its stock in trade, and advertisements should be paid for, no matter in what part of the paper they appear.

The Continued Calls

upon The Ledger for free notices have become so burdensome that we are forced to publish the following terms:

For Notices of Suppers, excursions, fairs, or other public entertainments where a fee is charged, and for obituary notices, remissions of request, etc., The Ledger will charge FIVE CENTS A LINE, and hereafter this will be the reasonable rate. This, however.

Does Not Include notices of Lodge meetings or Church services, which must not exceed two lines.

Avoidance of Disputes. Misunderstandings are unpleasant. The rate for the first insertion is 10 cents a line for the first insertion and 5 cents for each subsequent insertion. A customer orders a certain line inserted in the paper. It is not found when the paper comes. He says to the bookkeeper, "But he forgot all about it. The notice says for two months—of course—the bill is $10.00. When he finds it out, there is a "kick" and a controversy, followed probably by an angry letter, and, to obviate this trouble, no "bill" notice will be accepted hereafter. Let's have a definite agreement at the outset and the termination will be pleasant all around.

Arrivals All matter for publication must be handed in before 9 o'clock in the morning of each day.

Arrivals Mr. J. M. Stockton of Cincinnati spent yesterday in this city.

Miss Mary Hall of this city is the guest of the Misses Holmes at Tusculum.

Colonel Richard Dawson returned yesterday morning from his farm at Carrollton, Mo.

Very Personal. Postage on drop letters, whether sealed or not, is 2 cents. Many persons send their notices through the Postoffice with only 1 cent stamp. These are "held for postage." Hereafter they must contain a 2 cent stamp.

Mrs. W. E. Mullins and daughter are improving after a severe spell of the grip.

Workmen have been engaged the past ten days repairing the roof of the amphitheater at the Fairgrounds. In the early part of the winter water got under the tin on the North end of the building and froze, bursting the roof in several places, and during the high wind several weeks ago about $150 worth of the tin roof was blown off. It is also a settled fact that Mayville will have a fair this year, and it will be a hummer, too.

HELPING THE FIREMEN.

Two Liberal Citizens Who Have Given Substantial Aid.

Friday last THE LEDGER called attention to the fact that the Washington Fire Company was unable to meet the semi-annual interest due in February on $10,000 worth of bonds issued to build the Opera house.

On Saturday two liberal citizens made substantial gifts to the Company, and their names are given here without their knowledge, for neither care to have their many benefactions made public.

Mr. Lissant Cox, who held $500 of the bonds, at once upon learning the status of affairs, sent word to the Finance Committee that he would donate his bonds and interest to the Company—an absolute present of $515.

Mr. Horatio Picklin, who holds $2,300 of the bonds, has surrendered the February interest coupons, thus making the Company a gift of $406; and he is willing to enter into any further arrangement for the relief of the firemen.

The income from the Opera house to the past five years has not been sufficient to meet the interest on the bonds.

The salary of $400 received from the city is exhausted in the outrageous insurance charged on the building—$325 a year—and the city license of $100.

By the terms of the contract with the bondholders the Company is required to carry $10,000 insurance, and it does look like the insurance companies ought to have some consideration for a organization that works mainly for their benefit. To the contrary, however, these rapacious concerns have prized the rates up to the highest notch, and persistently keep them there.

In the meantime, if any of the remaining bondholders or citizens who are not bondholders, wish to follow the splendid example set by Mr. Cox and Mr. Picklin, let them call on M. C. Russell, Chairman of the Finance Committee.

Not a few who read what Mr. Robert Rowles of Hollands, Va., has said below, will remember their own experience under like circumstances: "Last winter I had a gripe which left me in a low state of health. I tried numerous remedies, none of which did me any good, until I was induced to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The first bottle of it so far relieved me that I was enabled to attend to my work, and the second bottle effected a cure." For sale at 25 and 50 cents per bottle by J. Jas. Wood, Druggist.

HON. ROBERT A. COCHRAN.

A SKETCH OF HIS LIFE BY A FORMER MAYSVILLIAN.

Mr. Thomas M. Green Touches Briefly on His Life "From the Cradle to the Grave."

In recent years Mayville has had no more useful or valuable citizen than Robert A. Cochran, who has been taken from the community which held him in such high esteem.

That he was born in Crawford county, Pa., January 27th, 1832; that his father was John Cochran and his mother Jane Duffield; that his paternal grandfather was a soldier in the Revolution; that on the father's side he was of the Scotch-Irish race, and on his mother's of the Anglo-Irish descent; that both families held the Calvinistic faith; that his father died when he was 7 years old, and that he was reared on a farm by a widowed mother; that his early educational opportunities were such as usually fell to a country boy in one of the Northern-Central states at that time; that he taught a country school in his native state several years before coming to Kentucky; and that his advent in Mason county in 1844 was in the same capacity—all this has been published.

The record differs in no material particular from the records of many of the men, who, born, of reputable parentage in moderate circumstances, trained to habits of industry and economy in boyhood, were aided by these very factors in their steady progress to prosperity, and helped to make our state and country what they are.

Of this class of men he was an excellent type.

When he first came among the Kentucky people of Mason county he was plain to all of them that he was imbued with principles of honor; that he was a man of integrity, not alone in the sense which leads men to scrupulously meet their pecuniary obligations, but in that higher and broader sense which does justice to one's fellowmen and stands up for the truth.

From the beginning his associations were always with the better class of our people;—by which is not at all meant the richest,—for there is a distinction with a difference between them.

His bearing was courteous, not favoring; his conduct was always that of a self-respecting, independent, manly man.

He at once won and held the friendship of such men as John A. McClung, who became his instructor in law; of the late Harrison Taylor; of William H. Wade, and of others of like position and character; of itself complimentary to any man.

Becoming the Deputy in the office of the Clerk of the County and Circuit Courts, it gave him opportunities of acquaintance with the great body of the country people and with the business men of both county and city.

That they all respected him goes without saying; it would have been impossible to not have respected one who was always so quick to himself, and, of necessity, equally so to others.

But, at that period of his life, he had personal and facial qualities which made him attractive and popular;—men liked him as well as confided in him.

He was the first Clerk of the Mason County Court elected by the people, and was three times re-elected. Of itself that would be slight evidence of the high estimation in which he was held; but it is due to him to say, and it is much to say, that his election was never due to the use of unworthy means nor to influences which degrade our fellowman.

He desired a re-election for a fifth term, and it is known that his wishes would have been easily gratified had he consented to abandon his political associates, in the change which had taken place; it was characteristic of the man that he preferred defeat rather than deviate from the path which his convictions instructed him was that of rectitude.

It is the concurrent testimony of all that the county never had a more faithful, a more upright nor a more competent official;—never one who devoted himself more scrupulously to the duties of his need a great deal of jewelry, but what he does wear ought to be good. It is the most extravagant sort of economy to pay too little for such things. If a man buys good buttons and studs the question is settled for sometime to come.

Good things not only last longer, but they look better. Most all jewelry is worn largely for ornament. To be sure it has its uses, and very necessary ones, but the ornamental feature is a strong one.

I will not handle anything that isn't good. I have several grades, of course,—some better than others, but all are to be depended upon.

J. BALLENGER, Mayville, Ky.

position and to the interests of his constituents.

Since then—since 1866—Mr. Cochran's career was that of a lawyer, of a director in financial institutions, President of the Gas Company, Manager of the Cotton Mill, etc., in which capacities he proved himself a sensible, discreet, energetic man of business.

But in the midst of this engrossment in private interests, in the manage of capital to increase his own means, and that of others, he still found time to serve the public. I allude particularly to his long, faithful and intelligent service as a member of the School Board of Mayville, in which, while others did their part, he unquestionably did all of his, did it well, did it energetically and with heartiness,—for both mind and heart were enlisted in the cause of public education.

In course as President of the City Council for eight years was marked by rare sagacity and an unselfish devotion to the public welfare, the results of which are known and need not be reiterated.

Those who served with him in the Kentucky Legislature, whatever may have been their own partisan affiliations, bear cordial testimony that, while one of the most modest, he was at the same time the most useful and valuable, and, though of the minority, one of the most influential of its members.

During his life of more than fifty years in Mason county Mr. Cochran had become thoroughly Kentuckianized.

He was not of showy talents; he was one of good, hard, practical sense.

He was a successful man of business in a stirring Kentucky town, but was no money grabber; he was liberal, generous, untempered, public spirited as a man and citizen, doing his whole part and contributing more than his share in the advancement of every good work. His example and his experience were always on the side of morality, of decency, of cleanly living, and of religion.

The death of such a man is always a loss, not only to his family and friends and to the community in which he had lived, but to his state and country.

Typoid fever, pneumonia and other forms of disease are very prevalent throughout the county.

Mr. Charles Downing, mention of whose serious illness has appeared in THE LEDGER, was thought to have been in a critical condition Friday night with chances against his recovery.

"I have been a victim to terrible headaches," writes C. F. Newman, Druggist, Va., "and have never found anything to relieve them so quickly as Ayer's Pills. Since I began taking this medicine the attacks have been less frequent, till they have ceased altogether."

Speaking of "Uncle" Tommie Donnan reminds us of how the boys used never jump on behind his buggy to ride, as the seat had nails or tacks in it, which made it rather uncomfortable place to sit. A boy might occasionally hop on it at night, but he would always get off quicker than he got on. This was why "Uncle" Tommie hardly ever had occasion to "cut behind."

The dyspeptic carries a dreadful load on his back. It seems as if he were really made up of two men. One of them ambitious, brainy and energetic; the other sick, listless, peevish and nervous. The weak man weighs the other one down. The dyspeptic may be able to do pretty good work one day, and the next day because of some little indigestion in nature, he may be able to do nothing at all. Most cases of dyspepsia start with constipation. Constipation is the cause of nine tenths of all human sickness. Some of its symptoms are sick and bilious headache, dizziness, sour stomach, loss of appetite, foul breath, windy belchings, heartburn, pain and distress after eating. All these are indicative of derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels, and all are caused by constipation. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the quickest, easiest and most certain cure for the condition. They are not violent in action.

A SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

Henry Rudy Had His Hand Badly Lacerated Saturday.

Henry Rudy, and employee of the Collins & Rudy Lumber Co., son of Mr. Newt Rudy, met with quite a serious accident Saturday morning that will lay him off for some several days.

He was feeding a Universal Wood-working Machine, joining two pieces of lumber, when a large splinter broke off of one of the joints and flew up.

Henry, in jerking his left hand out of the way, struck the back of it on the sharp edge of the machine, tearing the flesh off and breaking one of the fingers.

The injured member was lastly dressed, and beyond the severe pain and scare he is getting along all right.

It was reported that he had his hand caught in the machine, but that was a mistake, for if his hand had ever caught in the machine it would have been torn off, as the bits make 4,000 revolutions per minute.

NEWS NOTES FROM NATURE'S GREAT HIGHWAY.

The Henry M. Stanley passed down from Pomeroy yesterday at 11 a. m.

The K. Y. express will pass down this afternoon from Pittsburgh with a large trip.

The Alice Brown is coming with a tow of twenty-four empties bound for Pittsburgh.

All the towboats that have been hugging the banks with tows of empties are now on river at Pittsburgh.

The barges sunk at Kanawha Bar by the Beaver have been removed without the aid of the snubhook, and the channel is clear of any boat that has passed this city for that point in ten years. She was loaded flat.

The oldest towboat in existence is the Hawk, rebuilt and now owned by the McKimley Coal Co., Pittsburgh. The next oldest is the Bob Connell, owned by Huling Bros., Pittsburgh.

The rains for the past three days have been general throughout the entire Ohio and Kanawha valleys, and the river is now rising from Pittsburgh to Cairo, at some points above the rise amounting to as much as 3 inches per hour. At Pittsburgh there is a 12 foot stage, and about 12,000,000 bushels of coal are loaded in high barges, all of which will leave that port today and tomorrow. The Allegheny and Monongahela are both putting out, i. e., that from the former stream being pretty heavy and likely to give the boats a clear run, and all the coal that is loaded in that stream will get out, as will also a large amount of timber. This is a good thing for the coal operators, as they have quite a number of Southern contracts that have to be filled immediately.

GEN. GARCIA.

The Distinguished Patriot Sails from Philadelphia to Cuba.

He Goes at the Head of a Most Formidable Expedition.

On the High Seas He Will Be Another Expedition on Board a Fruit Steamer. They Will Make for and Some Port Near Havana.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 27.—A morning paper says: Gen. Calisto Garcia, the most distinguished Cuban general now outside of Cuba, has escaped the watchful eyes of Spanish agents and has sailed from Philadelphia, it is said, on the fruit steamer Bernard, bound for Cuba.

Gen. Garcia goes to Cuba at the head of the most formidable expedition that has ever left this country. He will take command on the high seas, where he will meet another fruit steamer, the Janet, with over 300 men on board and a large quantity of arms and ammunition.

From those familiar with Gen. Garcia's plans it was learned that the expedition will make for some port near the boundary line of the province of Pinar del Rio and the province of Havana. Gen. Gomez is well informed of all the plans for the expedition, and at the point agreed upon for the landing of the expedition he will have a strong line of troops. Owing to his great popularity in that district it is expected that Gen. Garcia will at once place himself at the head of a strong body of men in the province of Pinar del Rio.

Among Cubans in this country great hope is placed in this expedition. One of the drawbacks of the Cuban cause has been the lack of commanders, who combine both the qualities of military sagacity. Should such a misfortune befall either Gen. Maximo Gomez or Gen. Jose or Antonio Maceo, the Cuban cause would be in a rather embarrassing position.

Gen. Garcia, however, is fully competent to take either general's place at a moment's notice, and when the success of the expedition reaches this country, there will be rejoicing among the Cubans.

BRITISH AMBASSADOR'S

Interview With the Sultan of Turkey Was Not Cordial.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—The Daily News Monday publishes a despatch from its Constantinople correspondent, according to which the interview had with the Sultan by Sir Philip Currie, the British ambassador, when he delivered to his majesty the letter written by Queen Victoria was not cordial. The Sultan kept Sir Philip and his dragoman waiting in a cold room for nearly an hour before he was admitted into his presence. Sir Philip caught a severe cold and has been confined to his room ever since.

Anti-Lynching Bill Passes the Virginia

Not Cordial. RICHMOND, Va., Jan. 27.—The bill designed to prevent lynching passed the house Saturday by an overwhelming majority. It provides that charges of assault on women, shall have precedence over all other cases in the courts, and shall be speedily tried. The bill is a national shall be the presence of only the court officers, jury, counsel and prisoner, and on cross examination the judge shall allow the testimony of any questions to be asked of the woman.

Coffee-Raising in Mexico.

St. Louis, Jan. 27.—A special to a morning paper from the city of Mexico says: "The representative of a syndicate of English capitalists have just purchased 500,000 acres of coffee land on the Isthmus of Tehuantepec. The tract will be planted with coffee trees. American capitalists have invested several hundred thousand dollars in the coffee lands on the Isthmus within the past few months."

Death of John Tyler.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Mr. John Tyler, son of President John Tyler, died in this city Sunday morning at a very advanced age and after a long illness that has lasted for several months. For the last 20 years Mr. Tyler has been a resident of this city and was for many years in the rolls of the treasury department, but a partial paralysis had prevented him from engaging in the active duties of his office.

Died a Pauper.

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—A special from Memphis, Tenn., says: Benjamin Folger, a nephew of the late Chas. Wife of a Hotel Keeper Under Arrest for Attempted Poisoning of Her Husband. A Barkeeper Held as an Accomplice.

ENRICH, Pa., Jan. 27.—A sensation occurred Sunday afternoon at Girard, this county, when Mary H. Nellis was arrested for poisoning with intent to kill her husband, Peter H. Nellis, proprietor of the Nellis hotel and Edward Gardner was arrested as an accomplice. The prisoners were brought here Sunday night and lodged in jail. Nellis is wealthy, and his wife is a handsome woman. Last summer Mrs. Nellis spent some time at Lylidale, and brought home with her for her husband Edward Gardner, whom she had met at the spiritualistic resort. Nellis carried 250 pounds on his life in favor of his wife. Several weeks ago he was taken sick and vomited severely. Saturday at noon Nellis got a dose of tartar emetic in his coffee. Saturday night the girl caught a severe cold, and other doses of tartar emetic were taken. Nellis got another dose Sunday but was relieved with a stomach ache, and his brother-in-law, Dr. Rogers, of Connet, O., became suspicious, and set Maggie Hubbard, a dining room girl, to keep watch on events in the hotel.

THE BOND BILL.

A Vote Will Probably Be Taken on the Measure by the Senate This Week. WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The bill designating Monday ends the second session this congress has been in session. Despite the fact that the bill has been in session for several recess but little has been accomplished owing largely to consideration of the substitute to the house bond bill. Although the bill has been repeatedly disposed of in the house it has been the unfinished business of the senate.

At the end, however, it is thought, for on Friday last Mr. Jones, of Arkansas, in charge of the bill, gave notice that he would ask the senate to remain in session Thursday next until the bill was disposed of. It is hardly likely that the senate will adjourn today, as a number of senators have expressed their intention of speaking on the pending substitute and time is also short for the members to prepare each day has been attended to to permit of their delivery of the speeches. It is probable, however, that before the senate adjourns today the bill will have been adopted by the senate.

IN THE HOUSE.

A Forecast of the Proceedings for This Week. WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The time of the house this week will be largely occupied in the consideration of appropriation bills. The diplomatic and consular bill is ready to be reported. Debate upon it may begin immediately.

At the time the St. Paul can ashore it is said there was only four feet of water over the bar. The vessel has on board 200 tons of mail for the New York post office.

The St. Paul is imbedded in about six feet of sand. At 10 a. m., none of the passengers had been removed from the steamer. Another tug has arrived beside the steamer, and another is on her way from New York city. These tugs are being used in removing the passengers from the steamer. A stern line is out to hold the vessel in the position in which it is stranded.

Capt. Mulligan, of the life saving crew at Long Branch, boarded the steamer and had a talk with Capt. Jamieson. He will assist in removing the passengers. Beside the Long Branch life saving crew there are crews from Sea Bright and Monmouth Beach beside the vessel.

The ship was moved 175 feet seaward, but the flood-tide was not sufficient duration to enable the crew of the steamer and the wrecking companies to haul her into water deep enough to float.

At midnight Sunday night Customs House Officer Patterson telephoned from the St. Paul that a determined effort would be made to pull the ship from her predicament in the sand. Mr. Patterson said that a failure would doubtless be a failure returned from the east was blowing a gale that would make the tide extra high.

FANROBERT, Ky., Jan. 27.—Senator Goebel's bill repealing the charter of the Southern Pacific Co. has not yet been reported. The bill relating to the study and practice of medicine. The diplomatic and consular bill will be ready for report to the house.

The bill is likely to be advanced rapidly, and may be put upon its passage in the senate next week. It is said the bill will make a terrific fight to defeat the repealing measure, but indications are that it will pass the senate easily.

The difficulty it is most likely to encounter is in being run aground in the house on account of the overshadowing political considerations in that branch.

STRANDED.

The New American Steamer St. Paul Goes Ashore.

The Passengers Decided to Remain on Board, as There is No Danger.

The scene of the accident is near the Brighton Long Beach—An Unsuccessful Effort Made Sunday to Drag the Vessel from Her Sandy Bed.

SANDY HOOK, N. J., Jan. 27.—The American liner St. Paul, from Southampton, England, was stranded on the bar off Brighton Long Branch, N. J., during the dense fog, between 1 and 2 o'clock Saturday morning. She was shortly after discovered by the patrol from Long Branch Life Saving station and preparations made to open communication with her. The apparatus was dragged to the place and was brought into use, a short fired across the vessel, the hawser hauled on board and the breeches hoist sent off. The heaving board desired to remain by the vessel, as there was no danger. Messengers were sent ashore notifying the Maritime exchange and wrecking companies of the accident.

Among the passengers of the St. Paul are Congressman William H. Crocker, Prince Serge Wolosky, Dixon C. Walker, Dr. S. A. Knorr, Harvey W. Brown, H. G. Fellows, Miss Marie Sachs, Louis E. Worth and W. Whitehouse.

The St. Paul also has on board 31,000 lbs. of mail, and is carrying about 100 nearly head-on to the shore. It is clearing now. The wrecking tug Hustler passed out at 9:30 a. m. She is evidently on the way to render assistance to steamer St. Paul.

The vessel struck head on, on a sand bar about a quarter of a mile from the pier. Her bow is about 100 feet in the sand before her engines could be stopped. She is pointing southwest. The vessel is about 100 feet from the shore. At the time the St. Paul ran ashore it is said there was only four feet of water over the bar. The vessel has on board 200 tons of mail for the New York post office.

NEW BATTLESHIPS.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The opinion was expressed by members of the house committee on naval affairs Saturday that the naval appropriation bills for the coming fiscal year will provide for two new battleships, and possibly three. The matter has not been even informally discussed by the committee, but is general to provide for as many first-class fighting ships as the condition of the national finances will permit. It is expected, also, that the bill will carry an appropriation for a number of torpedo boats, probably as many as 12 in all.
